The entire project is available for streaming and download: Life Of A G EP. For inquiries and more information on this release contact: Baraka at 469-701-0660 or conductor@theaudioplaza.com

In addition to all the sound, visitors of theaudioplaza.com can get updates on select events taking place within the city and catch recaps of recent events that are covered by The Audio Plaza's media personnel. Also to note, shirts and hoodies are available as well as the opportunity to participate in the monthly giveaway.

The Audio Plaza also aims to serve as an effective aid to independent recording artists and those advocating for them with the help of The Instrumental Report, a semi-regularly issued collection of informative resources distributed via newsletter. This periodical provides insights to help guide independent artists and music groups find their road to success.

Those interested in working and affiliating with The Audio Plaza have an invitation to learn more about doing so by reviewing the information found in the Corporate Reference Volume
